Zoe and Gloria,
I certainly think AFST/PSYC/SOWK 255 should be included in the CDC domain.

Hi Zoe,

I am forwarding your email to Tom because he teaches AFST/PSYC/SOWK 255 Psychology of the Black Experience in the US. He should be able to work with you.

Subject: AFST/PSYC 255 Psychol. of Black Experience: including in PSYC major?

To: Gloria Chuku <chuku@umbc.edu>, Carolyn Tice <tice@umbc.edu>

Dear Gloria and Carolyn,

I am writing in regard to the course AFST/PSYC/SOWK 255 Psychology of the Black Experience in the US. In the Psychology Major, students are required to take one course from a group of courses (see below) in the Domain of "Culture, Diversity and Context" (CDC.) We believe that student opportunity for scholarly exploration of diversity within the context of the Psychology major will be expanded by inclusion of AFST/PSYC/SOWK 255 in the CDC domain.

If you have any questions or concerns about this proposal and wish to discuss, please contact me by email (warwick@umbc.edu) or phone (455-2360). If you support the inclusion of this course in the CDC Domain, please affirm by email. Your statement of support must accompany our submission to the Undergraduate Council requesting this change.

Thanks in advance, and best wishes for a good end of semester and summer ahead.

Zoe
