RATIONALE FOR CHANGE:

We are removing the prerequisite requirement of AMST 300 for all Department of American Studies 400-level seminars. Requiring AMST 300 (a methods course primarily for AMST majors) limits access to students from other departments or programs adding AMST 400-level seminars, like AMST 422, without instructor permission. As practice, requests to add our 400-level seminars are granted to interested students and we want to limit barriers for students interested in registering for these seminars, some of which count towards credit for degrees in other departments or programs such as Africana Studies, the Entrepreneurship minor, or the undergraduate public history track.

There are no other changes proposed other than removing the prerequisite.
