Dear UGC committee,

I confirm that History supports the cross-listing of the following courses with ANCS. These courses were created by the History department before there was an Ancient Studies department at UMBC. They have not been taught regularly by History faculty in some time and instead are usually offered by our colleagues in ANCS. We think it makes sense for these courses to be cross-listed with History and Ancient Studies.

HIST 453 : Ancient Greece
HIST 454 : Hellenistic World & Rome
HIST 455 : The Roman Republic
HIST 456 : The Roman Empire

Sincerely,

Amy Froide, Chair, History

David,
You would be creating new courses in ANCS, so it comes from Ancient Studies. You would supply the letter from History saying ok to cross-listing them. Finally, they can be different numbers in the two departments.
Hope this helps, by the way Beth Feeser is the new chair of UGC.

Hi Terry,

I am hoping you can give me some guidance on how to proceed with relabeling HIST 453, 454, 455, and 456 as ANCS courses and cross listing the ANCS courses with the HIST courses. Having these courses listed as ANCS courses was recommended in our most recent APR and backed by both the dean and the provost. Amy Froide, the chair of HIST, has recently agreed to allow this to go forward.

I have several questions:

1. Does the process begin from HIST, the current course owner, or from ANCS, the soon to be owner.
2. What processes would be used to effect this change? Would it proceed as a renumbering and cross listing?
3. Is it allowable to list the courses as ANCS 3XX and to cross list them with 4XX HIST courses or would HIST have to list the courses as 3XX too?

I would appreciate any help you could offer on this matter.
