CURRENT CATALOG DESCRIPTION (required):

This course introduces students to the field of critical sexuality studies. Using an interdisciplinary approach, the course conducts a critical inquiry into the historical precedents and theoretical frameworks necessary to understand the role of sexuality in shaping personal, social, economic, and political life. The course focuses on patterns of subordination and exclusion based on individuals’ sexual practices and identities, explains the origins and persistence of those patterns, and considers ways of challenging them. Throughout the course, special attention will be given to intersections of sexuality with gender, race, ethnicity, religion, class, and disability.

PROPOSED CATALOG DESCRIPTION (Approximately 75 words in length. Please use full sentences): Leave blank if no changes are being proposed to the catalog description. NOTE: information about prerequisites should NOT appear in the catalog description.

No Change

RATIONALE FOR CHANGE:

We request the end of the cross listed between the two courses, the inactivation of AMST 210, and the creation of CSST 210. We are creating a new cross-listing to make it more visible to students in the course catalog and schedule of classes. Students interested in the topic of sexuality studies often have trouble finding the course when it is listed at GWST 210. At the same time, we are discontinuing the cross-listing with AMST 210 course and the attached email approves the discontinuation of the AMST cross list and the retirement of the course. Going forward the course would be CSST/GWST 210 and AMST 210 would no longer be listed in the course catalog. As context, please be aware that Carole McCann Professor of GWST created the original course in the late 1990s and GWST has always been the primary department for the course.

Carole,

As chair of AMST, I am writing with my approval for both the elimination of the cross list and the discontinuation of AMST 210. I support GWST and the rationale for the creation of CSST 210.

Best,
 Nicole

Nicole,

Thanks for the approval of the elimination of the cross list. Thinking it through more, I realize that the change will also require that the AMST version of the course be discontinued. That means that it would be edited out of next year's catalog.

I have included that in the draft rationale for the CSST 210 creation and cross list that is attached. Could I ask you to resend an email with your approval to clarify that AMST approves both the elimination of the cross list and the discontinuation of AMST 210?

This process has been done in the past. Some years ago I was involved in such a request that eliminated the English version of the cross listed women in media course. I am not sure how the UGC will want to handle it this time around. So I thought we could start with the form and your email approval. If you have any questions or concerns about this, please let me know.

Thanks,

Carole
